From the Research and Training Center for Children's Mental Health, Tampa, Florida...

This News brief alerts you to the following article:

Brannan, A. M. (2003). Ensuring effective mental health treatment in real-world settings and the critical role of families. Journal of Child and Family Studies, 12(1), 1-10.

In this brief, theoretical article, the author argues that "improved understanding of children's service experiences, and how families influence them" (p. 8) may bridge system-of-care research with clinical or treatment studies, and thus move research efforts forward, from efficacy studies to real-world implementation.

Data Trends are produced by the Research and Training Center for Children's Mental Health, Louis de la Parte Florida Mental Health Institute, University of South Florida, Tampa. Data Trends are funded by the Center for Mental Health Services, SAMHSA, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. There are two Data Trends products: 1) Summaries (ISSN# 1537-0399), which detail recent, published articles on systems of care for children with emotional and behavioral disabilities and their families, and; 2) News briefs (ISSN# 1537-0402), which highlight related items or events of interest to the field.
