From the Research and Training Center for Children's Mental Health,
Tampa, Florida...

This special issue of the Mt. Sinai Journal of Medicine (May, 2004) commemorates the 35th anniversary of the Mt. Sinai Adolescent Health Center (AHC). The AHC serves youth ages 10-21 and their children (regardless of ability to pay), and provides comprehensive, culturally sensitive, age-appropriate health and mental health services to adolescents in New York City and beyond. Selected titles follow. Articles are available at <http://www.mssm.edu/msjournal/>

- * Introduction: The Mount Sinai Adolescent Health Center
- * Fostering Resilience in Adolescent Females
- * Nutrition and Eating Disorders in Adolescents
- * Foster Children with Special Needs: The Children's Aid Society Experience
- * Where The Wild Things Are: The Power and Challenge of Adolescent Group Work
- * Legal and Ethical Issues Facing Adolescent Health Care Professionals
- * CHIP: New Opportunities in Adolescent Health Care Delivery
- * Adolescent School-Based Health Care: A Description of Two Sites in Their 20th Year of Service

Data Trends are produced by the Research and Training Center for Children's Mental Health, Louis de la Parte Florida Mental Health Institute, University of South Florida, Tampa. Data Trends are funded by the Center for Mental Health Services, SAMHSA, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. There are two Data Trends products: 1) Summaries (ISSN# 1537-0399), which detail recent, published articles on systems of care for children with emotional and behavioral disabilities and their families, and; 2) News briefs (ISSN# 1537-0402), which highlight related items or events of interest to the field.
